

Biden Administration Resource Center

A Washington, DC institution operating at the intersection of law, government, business, and innovation, Wiley is uniquely positioned to help clients navigate the shifting legal and policy landscape as President Joe Biden works with the 117th Congress to implement his agenda. Drawing on our legal, regulatory, and policy capabilities, combined with our interdisciplinary depth and unparalleled mastery of the nation's capital, we are helping companies, associations, and startups anticipate and respond to the far-reaching priorities of this new Administration.